Motorized Obsessions Paul R. Josephson 2007-09-02 2008 Outstanding Academic Title, Choice Magazine From dirt bikes and jet skis to weed wackers and snowblowers, machines powered by small gas engines have become a permanent—and loud—fixture in American culture. But fifty years of high-speed fun and pristine lawns have not come without cost. In the first comprehensive history of the small-bore engine and the technology it powers, Paul R. Josephson explores the political, environmental, and public health issues surrounding one of America's most dangerous pastimes. Each chapter tells the story of an ecosystem within the United States and the devices that wreak havoc on it—personal watercraft (PWCs) on inland lakes and rivers; all-terrain vehicles (ATVs) in deserts and forests; lawn mowers and leaf blowers in suburbia. In addition to environmental impacts, Josephson discusses the development and promotion of these technologies, the legal and regulatory efforts made to improve their safety and environmental soundness, and the role of owners' clubs in encouraging responsible operation. Synthesizing information from medical journals, recent environmental research, nongovernmental organizations, and manufacturers, Josephson's compelling history leads to one irrefutable conclusion: these machines cannot be operated without loss of life and loss of habitat.

Cloud Computing Synopsis and Recommendations Tim Grance

2012-05-31 This document reprises the NIST-established definition of cloud computing, describes cloud computing benefits and open issues, presents an overview of major classes of cloud technology, and provides guidelines and recommendations on how organizations should consider the relative opportunities and risks of cloud computing. Cloud computing has been the subject of a great deal of commentary. Attempts to describe cloud computing in general terms, however, have been problematic because cloud computing is not a single kind of system, but instead spans a spectrum of underlying technologies, configuration possibilities, service models, and deployment models. This document describes cloud systems and discusses their strengths and weaknesses.

Tomorrow's Trees - Planting for the Future Pobalscoil Cheannfhaola 2019-03-20 Pobalscoil Chloich Cheannfhaola (P.C.C.) is a community school located in the Gaeltacht area of Falcarragh in the beautiful North West of Co. Donegal. Every year, 2nd-year students who participate in the Junior Certificate Schools Programme (JCSP), have the opportunity to get involved in the JCSP Make a Book exhibition. Students create a book based on a subject that is of interest to them and then display it alongside books created by students from schools all over the North West of Ireland. This wonderful showcase represents many hours of work by the students and their teachers and is a chance for students to exhibit their many skills and talents. Over the last few years, our school has been very fortunate to be able to collaborate with Pobal le Chéile, a local community development group in Falcarragh. This collaboration has been a very positive experience for the students and staff at P.C.C. and has served to help build links in the community. It has also given our JCSP students the opportunity to work with some of their greatly talented staff and learn so much through workshops, visits and talks. This year, Rang Eoin chose to create a digital book based around a tree planting project they undertook. The idea for this project came about through a donation of trees to the school and community from "Trees on the Land" which is a charity and not-for-profit project from the Green Economy Foundation in collaboration with The Woodland Trust in Northern Ireland. As a JCSP librarian, it is always a proud moment when students see their finished book for the first time and can celebrate the fact that they are authors, no mean feat at the age just of 14 or 15 years old. Sarah Ball, JCSP Librarian
